WRIGHT MEETS WITH AN ACCIDENT

Aeroplane Wrecked and Lieutenant Selfridge Killed.

AVIATOR SERIOUSLY INJURED

Propeller Blade of Flying Machine Snaps Off and Hits Some Other Part of the Intricate Mechanism, Causing the Airship to Overturn in the Air and Fall to the Ground, Enveloping Occupants in the Debris.

Washington, Sept. 18.—After having drawn the attention of the world to his aeroplane flights at Fort Myer and having established new world's records for heavier-than-air flying machines, Orville Wright met with a tragical mishap while making a two-man flight. The aviator was accompanied by Lieutenant Thomas E. Selfridge of the signal corps of the army. Lieutenant Selfridge was fatally injured and died in less than three hours after the accident occurred. Mr. Wright was seriously injured, but is expected to recover.

While the machine was encircling the drill grounds a propeller blade snapped off and, hitting some other part of the intricate mechanism, caused it to overturn in the air and fall to the ground, enveloping the two occupants in the debris.

Soldiers and spectators ran across the field to where the aeroplane had fallen and assisted in lifting Mr. Wright and Lieutenant Selfridge from under the tangled mass of machinery, rods, wires and shreds of muslin. Mr. Wright was conscious and said:

"Oh, hurry and lift the motor."

Lieutenant Selfridge was unconscious and had apparently struck the ground with great force. His head was covered with blood and he was choking when the soldiers extricated him from under the machine.

Never Regained Consciousness.

Dr. Watters, a New York physician, was one of the first to reach the spot and render first aid to the injured men. When their wounds had been bandaged Mr. Wright and Lieutenant Selfridge were taken to the Fort Myer hospital at the other end of the field. It was feared that Mr. Wright was suffering from internal injuries. He had lapsed into a state of semi-consciousness by the time he reached the hospital, while Lieutenant Selfridge did not regain consciousness at all. He was suffering from a fracture at the base of the skull and was in a critical condition.

After a hurried surgical examination it was announced that Mr. Wright was not dangerously injured. He is suffering from a fracture of his left thigh and several ribs on the right side are fractured. Both men received deep cuts about the head. Mr. Wright regained consciousness at the hospital and dictated a cablegram to his brother at Le Mans, France, and requested that the same message be sent to his sister and father at Dayton, O., assuring them that he was all right.

Although there have been but a handful of people at the aeronautical testing grounds at Fort Myer during the past few days, fully 2,000 had gathered to see the flight that ended so tragically. The aeroplane was taken to the northern end of the field to be placed on the starting track in readiness for a flight.

Everybody was ordered back from the machine and Mr. Wright turned to Lieutenant Selfridge and said:

"You might as well get in. We'll start in a couple of minutes."

Delighted at the Opportunity.

Mr. Wright announced several days ago that he would take Lieutenant Selfridge, who is secretary of the Aerial Experiment association, and an aviator himself, in his next flight. The young officer was delighted to have an opportunity to fly in the aeroplane. He was to leave Saturday for St. Joseph, Mo., where he was to assist Lieutenant Foulers in operating the Baldwin airship at the coming army maneuvers.

After Mr. Wright told him to get in the machine, Lieutenant Selfridge took off his coat and hat and took his place in the extra seat next to that occupied by Mr. Wright, the latter starting the motor by means of a storage battery, his assistants, Taylor and Furness, turning the propellers to get them going. When the aeroplane was released it was noticed that it did not rise as quickly from the ground as on previous two-man flights. Lieutenant Selfridge weighed about 175 pounds, making the weight greater than the machine had ever carried before.

After gliding over the ground on its runners for thirty feet, the machine rose gradually and had gained a height of forty feet when it passed over the starting apparatus for the first time.

There was a six-mile wind and it was noticed that the machine did not run as smoothly as on its former flights, most of which were made in calm weather. The aviator, however, apparently had control of the aerial flyer, which rose to a height of seventy-five feet as it completed the second round of the field. This height was maintained on the third round.

While the machine was turning at the southern end of the field, several thousand feet from the spectators, someone shouted:

"What is that? Something fell."

Immediately all eyes were on the aeroplane and it was seen to turn over on its left side, and, pausing a moment, make a complete turn and then come swooping to the earth in a cloud of dust. No effort on the part of the aviator could possibly have averted the accident. Planes and rudders were absolutely incapable of righting the machine when it had turned in that manner.

Several officers who were standing around the starting apparatus ordered the mounted soldiers over to the wreck, but spectators, soldiers, officers and newspaper men were already running across the field. It was fully a minute before anyone reached the tangled mass.

The mounted soldiers formed a cordon around the wreckage, while others frantically endeavored to lift the heavy mass of machinery and wood that pinned Wright and Selfridge to the ground. Lieutenant Selfridge's face was covered with blood and he was groaning and choking from the internal hemorrhage. Orville Wright lay by his side, his face as pale as the mass of white muslin overhead. He was conscious and asked that the machine be lifted off his leg.

Piece after piece of the wooden framework was broken off as a half dozen men endeavored to free the injured men. As soon as they could be extricated they were taken to one side and physicians from the crowd of spectators went to their aid. Their clothes were loosened and their wounds bandaged.

Attendants from the post hospital hastened across the field to the place where the machine lay and as soon as possible Mr. Wright and Lieutenant Selfridge were laid on stretchers and carried to the hospital, where Lieutenant Selfridge died.

WHY SHE MARRIED OSBORNE

Helen Maloney Feared She Would Have to Marry Titled Foreigner.

New York, Sept. 18.—Fear that she might be compelled by her parents to marry a titled foreigner whom she disliked was the reason which Helen Maloney, daughter of wealthy Martin Maloney of Philadelphia, declared impelled her to go through a marriage ceremony with Arthur Herbert Osborne, a young broker of this city. This information, given by Miss Maloney under oath when she was being examined by a referee in connection with her application to have the purported marriage annulled, was gleaned from papers in the case which were filed in court after a formal decree finally annulling the marriage was granted by Justice Gerard in the supreme court. Miss Maloney swore that the marriage never was regarded in a serious light either by herself or by Osborne; that she did not believe the contract a binding one, inasmuch as the contracting parties did not give their right names, ages or names of their parents to the justice of the peace who performed the ceremony and that the marriage never had been consummated.

Osborne, in his answer opposed the application for annulment, and also declared that no consummation of the marriage ever had taken place and that neither of the contracting parties ever intended that it should take place until after a marriage ceremony had been performed in a Roman Catholic church by a priest of that church.

Miss Maloney now is free, so far as the laws of the United States are concerned, to marry Samuel Clarkson, a young Englishman, with whom she eloped and went to England some time ago.

Zett Sentenced to Death.

Rockville, Conn., Sept. 18.—John Zett, who has been on trial here for the killing of his wife, Mary, and his granddaughter, Viola, last month, was found guilty of murder in the first degree. Judge Curtis imposed a sentence of death. Zett is to be hanged on Dec. 21, next.

Forest Fires in Pennsylvania.

Williamsport, Pa., Sept. 18.—Extensive forest fires are raging in this part of the state as a result of drought. It is impossible to estimate the losses as the fires are beyond control and spreading over hundreds of acres. A heavy pall of smoke covers the country for miles.

HEARST MAKES GRAVE CHARGES

Says Foraker Received Money From the Oil Trust.

READS ARCHBOLD'S LETTERS

Which Refer to Checks Aggregating Nearly Thirty Thousand Dollars Alleged to Have Been Sent to the Ohio Senator—Asserts That Democratic Party Killed the Fatted Calf for John D. Rockefeller.

Columbus, O., Sept. 18.—Thomas L. Hisgen, candidate of the Independence party for president, and William R. Hearst addressed a meeting at Memorial hall under the auspices of the local party. Mr. Hearst read letters which he said had been written by John D. Archbold of the Standard Oil company to Senator J. B. Foraker of Ohio, referring to legislation pending in congress and mentioning two enclosures of checks, one for $15,000 and another for $14,500. Mr. Hearst said:

"We claim that the Republican party has been for a long time the beneficiary of the trust co-operations and that the Democratic party has only waited an opportunity to share its sister's profitable infamy."

"We claim that the Democrats are today eagerly competing with the Republicans for trust favor."

"We claim that when Theodore Roosevelt whipped the Standard Oil company out of the Republican party the Democratic party welcomed that convicted criminal with open arms."

Killed Fatted Calf for Rockefeller.

We claim that the Democratic party killed for Mr. Rockefeller the fatted calf and that there is more rejoicing over this one sinner who has joined the Democratic cause than there is over the hundreds of thousands of honest, faithful citizens who constitute the Democratic masses.

"I am not here either with empty assertions, but with legal evidence and documentary proof."

"I am now going to read copies of letters written by Mr. John D. Archbold, chief agent of the Standard Oil company, an intimate personal representative of Mr. Rockefeller and Mr. Rogers. These letters have been given me by a gentleman who has intimate associations with this giant of corruption, the Standard Oil, but whose name I may not divulge lest he be subjected to the persecution of this monopoly."

Mr. Hearst then read the following letters, alleged to be from Mr. Archbold to Senator Foraker:

"My Dear Senator—I have your favor of last night with enclosure, which latter, with letter from Mr. Elliott, commenting on same, I beg to send you herewith. Perhaps it would be better to make a demonstration against the whole bill, but certainly the Ninth clause, to which Mr. Elliott refers, should be stricken out and the same is true of house bill No. 590, also introduced by Mr. Price, in relation to foreign corporations in which the same objectionable clause occurs."

Had Situation Well in Hand.

"Am glad to hear that you think that the situation is fairly well in hand."

The second letter is dated March 26, 1900, and is as follows:

"Dear Senator—In accordance with our understanding, I now beg to enclose you a certificate of deposit to your favor for $15,000. Kindly acknowledge receipt."

The third letter, dated Feb. 16, 1900, follows:

"My Dear Senator—Here is still another very objectionable bill. It is so outrageous as to be ridiculous, but its needs to be looked after, and I hope there will be no difficulty in killing it."

"Am anxious to hear from you as to the situation as a whole."

After reading the above letters, Mr. Hearst said:

"You will see, gentlemen, that these letters are not read at random, but they have a natural sequence. Here is the next."

He then read a letter dated New York, April 17, 1900, as follows:

Sent Certificate of Deposit.

"My Dear Senator—I enclose you certificate of deposit to your favor of $14,500. We are greatly at a loss in the matter, but I send this and will be glad to have a very frank talk with you when opportunity offers, if you so desire."

"I need scarcely again express our great gratification over the favorable outcome of affairs."

Mr. Hearst then read a letter purporting to have been written by Representative Sibley of Pennsylvania to Mr. Archbold, relating how Mr. Sibley told President Roosevelt that he should be careful how he offended the

IF YOU voted at the primary election you are ineligible to sign a petition for an independent candidate for sheriff or any other office. It makes no difference whether you voted for that particular office or not, if you voted at all it disqualifies you. The name of every voter who exercised his right appears on the poll list and a comparison of petitions with this list will make it easy to see who are liable to punishment under the law for a misdemeanor of this kind.

The postoffice department at Washington has sent out to all postmasters notification of the fact that on and after October 1, next, the rate of postage on first class matter to Great Britain and Ireland will be 2 cents per ounce, the same as between different points in our own country. Heretofore, the rate of postage on first class matter to England has been 5 cents for a half ounce. The postage rate to England is now on the same basis as prevails in the United States, so far as the first class matter is concerned. People who have much correspondence with Great Britain and Ireland will save considerable money in postage in the course of a year, in view of the cheaper rate.

BROKE ALL RECORDS

More Grain Handled Over Second District in One Day than Ever Before in its History

The Second district of the Lake Superior Division of the Northern Pacific railroad made a new record in wheat hauling on Wednesday. There were 507 loads and 15 empties taken east in 24 hours, over the entire district. The big "2300" class engines are hauling 2700 tons or 56 car loads of 1200 bushels each. At Duluth and Superior 600 cars were switched Wednesday night, which also established a new record.

Coal Shortage Threatened

Unless people put in their coal supply immediately, there is liable to be a repetition of "coal shortage conditions," which prevailed during the winter of 1906-07. Only a quarter to half of the amount necessary for this winter's consumption has thus far moved. The responsibility for the light movement rests largely with the consumers, who have delayed ordering much later than usual. The docks at the head of the lakes are taxed with stored coal to the limit of their capacity. The cars necessary to move the coal are now available, but with the heavy grain movement, which will be fully under way within the next few weeks, most of these cars will be required for the grain service. There is just one way of insuring a sufficient coal supply, and that is to order it now for immediate delivery.—Duluth Herald.

ADMITTED BY GOMPERS.

That He Hastened Publication of Periodical to Avoid Injunction.

Washington, Sept. 18.—That he hastened the publication of the American Federationist for last January so as to get it into circulation before the injunction decree of the supreme court of the District of Columbia prohibiting the publication of the Bucks Stove and Range company of St. Louis in the "We Don't Patronize List" of that periodical became effective, was admitted by President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor. The admission was made in connection with the hearing before Examiner Harper, who is taking the testimony bearing on the contempt case against Messrs. Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison of the federation, which grows out of the alleged violation of the injunction decree. It was shown that the order had been issued Dec. 18, 1907, and that between that date and Dec. 23, when it became effective, the January issue of the organ of the federation had been gotten out and sent through the mails a few days in advance of the ordinary time.

REPUBLICAN RALLY TO OCCUR IN CINCINNATI

Cincinnati, Sept. 18.—Besides the excursion trains, filled with the personnel of the National League of Republican clubs, which are scheduled to arrive here for the day and night celebration next Tuesday, it was predicted at the Taft headquarters that the nearby towns of Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana would swell the expected throng with many marching clubs. There will be a day meeting in G. A. R. hall, and an evening rally in Music hall, at which Senator Foraker will preside, make a speech, and introduce

Judge Taft, the principal speaker of the evening. Those in charge of the local arrangements said the rally would eclipse anything of the kind previously attempted in the city.

Judge Taft devoted the greater portion of the day at his private quarters working on the speeches he is scheduled to deliver through the Middle West and North. He announced that from this time until his departure this work would engross his attention to the exclusion of receiving callers or delegations. This announcement is taken to mean the practical abandonment of the front porch campaign, which was contemplated when he came to the city.

During the short time the candidate spent at his office in the Sinton hotel he was visited by a number of local politicians.

ERICKSON WAS THE LUCKY MAN

Present Chairman of County Commissioners Won Draw on Nomination Tie

WAS DECIDED THIS FORENOON

Ten Ballots, Eight of them Blanks, Were Placed in Box---Erickson's First Out

John A. Erickson will be the republican candidate for county commissioner from the Third district. Such was the decree of fate when the tie between that gentleman and Peter Peterson, was decided before the board of county canvassers this forenoon. Both candidates were present and while either could have demanded a special election because of the tie, both were agreed that there should be no additional expense placed on the taxpayers and each agreed to casting lots. After some discussion it was decided to place ten ballots, one containing the name of each candidate and the other eight blanks, in the jury box. This was done and the box closed and thoroughly shaken. H. D. Treglawney then drew out the ballots one by one and W. A. M. Johnston opened and examined them. The first two were blanks. The third bore the name of J. A. Erickson. Mr. Peterson, who sat beside Mr. Erickson, at once reached out and, grasping the hand of his successful competitor, congratulated him and expressed himself as satisfied with the fairness of the outcome. The two candidates then left the room and went down town together.

THAT BALL GROUND LEASE

Some Misapprehensions as to Who Stopped Sunday Base Ball on McKay Grounds Last Summer

The campaign for membership of the Y. M. C. A. has developed the fact there are some who are laboring under a misapprehension of the facts concerning the stopping of Sunday base ball on the McKay grounds last summer. Some of the devotees of Sunday sport have charged that but for the leasing of the grounds by the Y. M. C. A. Sunday base ball would have been permitted there. It is but fair to that organization that the exact facts be known. Before the grounds were leased there had been complaints lodged by the residents of the neighborhood against Sunday playing and Chief of Police McGivern stopped one Sunday game and notified the players that no more games would be allowed there at any time. A resident of that block also sought the agent of the property and wanted to rent a lot across the center of the grounds to pile wood on in order to stop all games. The Y. M. C. A. had already commenced the negotiations for the lease and were told by the agent that unless they would lease it and undertake the policing of the grounds during games, and would prohibit Sunday ball, the grounds would be leased to the other party and all games there stopped. The association then leased the grounds and went to the expense of providing special officers during all games. The lease, when made out expressly prohibited Sunday base ball and the association could not have permitted the use of the grounds had it so desired, which would have been contrary to the constitution of the association. The association, did, however permit the free use of the grounds on week days, with the single exception of the Fourth of July, when they declined to permit a game during the time the exercises were being held under the charge of the Commercial club. The officers refused this permission on the grounds that it would not be courteous to invite a speaker, singers, etc., and then countenance a ball game during the exercises.

The association has been friendly to all clean and manly sport and its officers are not opposing or putting obstacles in the way of any organization in the city, nor will they do so.

PILLAGER TO HOLD FAIR

Cass County Agricultural Association Will Hold 10th Annual Fair There October 2d and 3d

Bills have been received announcing the 10th annual fair of the Cass County Agricultural association. The fair will be pulled off at Pillager on Friday and Saturday, October 2d and 3rd. All sorts of amusements are promised and there will be dancing and music following the fair each evening. The residents of Northern Morrison county are invited to participate. W. B. Jones is president, Chas. Kinkade, Sec'y, and Thos. H. Parsons, Asst. Sec'y.

HE KNEW THE STATIONS

Lumberjack in Minneapolis Street Car was Familiar with Stations on Minnesota & International

At noon yesterday in a Hennepin avenue street car, coatless, rough-trousered and shod in sole-caked leather, Nels Swanson, a Beltrami lumberjack, went to sleep.

Nels had happy dreams as his face showed. On his shirt front he wore a bouquet of pansies; his overalls were rolled up to the tops of his laced boots.

The conductor nudged him for his fare, "All aboard!" mumbled the giant from the north woods. "Brainerd, Pequot, Hackensack, Walker, Bemidji, Turtle River and Tenstrike! All aboard!"

Oblivious to the details of the present Nels pulled a handful of the needful from his pocket and let the conductor take what he wanted.

"All aboard!" said the conductor. "All aboard!" echoed Nels. —Minneapolis Tribune.

Passed Examination Successfully James Donahue, New Britain, Conn., writes: "I tried several kidney remedies and was treated by our best physicians for diabetes, but did not improve until I took Foley's Kidney Remedy. After the second bottle I showed improvement and five bottles cured me completely. I have since passed a rigid examination for life insurance." Foley's Kidney remedy cures backache and all forms of kidney and bladder troubles. H. P. Dunn. mwf

KLING AND BROWN

The Final Count Gives the Legislative Nominations to the Two Little Falls Gentlemen

While the official count has not been finished it is so far completed that the final result cannot be changed. The figures in the following table contains the entire count of Crow Wing county excepting Little Pine precinct, where less than a dozen votes are cast. The Morrison county figures are taken from the official table and are practically the exact figures. The result shows that E. A. Kling and L. D. Brown have received the nominations:

	MORRISON	CROW WING	TOTAL
I. W. Bouck.....	328	580	908
N. M. Young.....	312	502	814
E. A. Kling.....	588	533	1121
L. D. Brown.....	356	693	1049
C. W. Bouck.....	342	491	833

Millions of bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar have been sold without any person ever having experienced any other than beneficial results from its use for coughs, colds and lung troubles. This is because the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package contains no opiates or other harmful drugs. Guard your health by refusing any but the genuine. H. P. Dunn. mwf

The Cass County Result

The Cass county election returns at Walker, with six small precincts to hear from, gives A. A. Oliver a majority of six over Naustvold for clerk of the court, and Funk a majority of two over Silas Scribner for county attorney, and the final count will have to be made to decide the matter. The following have received the nomination which the balance of the returns cannot change: I. P. Byhre, auditor; W. T. McKeown, treasurer; Robert DeLury, sheriff; Bert Jamieson, judge of probate; J. W. Curo, surveyor; E. E. Holman, coroner; H. H. Hall, superintendent of schools; W. B. Jones, county commissioner.

The returns at Walker show that P. H. McGarry has been nominated for the legislature, but that the vote is close between Hamilton and Ferguson, with the probability that Hamilton, of Aitkin, has been defeated.

When Trifles become Troubles If anyone suspects that their kidneys are deranged they should take Foley's Kidney remedy at once and not risk Bright's disease or diabetes. Delay gives the disease a firmer foothold and you should not delay taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. H. P. Dunn. mwf

Appreciation

TO THE PEOPLE OF CROW WING COUNTY: One never knows in what estimation his work and personality are held until some occasion like the recent primary election gives an opportunity for the expression of public opinion. I am highly pleased at the endorsement given me and extend to the people my sincere thanks for this expression of their approval of my services. Especially do I value the votes and work of the ladies because they are always most interested in every thing that is for the advancement of the already high state of education and culture of the people of this county.

J. A. WILSON.

A Card of Thanks

I wish, at this time, to give expression to my heartfelt thanks for the very satisfactory vote given me at the primaries for county attorney. To one and all I can only say—thank you. If I am elected in November, I shall take the office free from any promise, except to do right, for I have no other promise. It will be my determination to do the work of the office as near right as I know how to do it, and I only ask that all who may have occasion to transact business with the office to feel perfectly free to come and see me. Again, I sincerely thank the people of Crow Wing county.

SALVATION ARMY ASKS CONTRIBUTIONS

Will Hold Annual Harvest Festival in All Towns September 26th to 29th

ASK AID OF THE CHARITABLE

Army Sends out Circular Setting Forth its Doings, Aims and Necessities

Local officers of the Salvation Army have requested THE DISPATCH to give publicity to the appeal of the army for contributions for its annual Harvest Festival, which takes place simultaneously in all towns where the army is represented. They ask contributions of fruit, flowers, canned goods, vegetables, fish, meat, chickens, live stock, corn, flour, wheat, oatmeal, condensed milk, bread, crackers, cheese, tea, coffee, cocoa, books, pictures, jewelry, shoes, coal, wood, lumber, shingles, chairs, sheets, blankets, cutlery, tools, furniture, new or old.

A circular sent out from headquarters reads as follows:

"Have you ever heard of a poor, troubled, sorrowful, perplexed, hopeless man or woman appealing fruitlessly to The Salvation Army? Do you know that something like 3,000,000 just such people are upheld by this wonderful organization? Do you know that in twenty-three different homes fallen women are each year restored by the score to honor and a life of useful purity? Do you know that in three different havens little children, all the way from nursing babes to sturdy boys and girls are being succored? Do you know that scattered over the country are seventy-eight Shelters in which nightly some 9,000 homeless, often hopeless, men or women are cared for? Do you know that these institutions represent but a mere fraction of the charitable work successfully carried on by The Salvation Army in the United States?

"How is this enormous expense to be met? Fools and ignorant know-alls will perhaps explain to you that The Army is in and of itself a sort of bonanza class-corporation, and of a truth it would needs be if out of its own resources it carried on the stupendous undertakings it dares. But the intelligent man or woman of today knows too well The Salvation Army under too many conditions, and through too many seasons to listen to such folly.

The army just now is making a special effort to raise funds, and they are asking for not only cash but articles that can be converted into cash.

"No religious organization of history has depended more fully upon the good offices and charitable warmth of the public than The Salvation Army. Happily we are not an ungrateful people, nor a people slow to realize or appreciate great deeds. That is why we have a right to feel a sincere interest in everything The Salvation Army undertakes, and that is why we all now take an interest in The Army's approaching annual Harvest Festival, September 26 to 29.

"Anything and everything of any actual utility may be given as an offering at this Festival, for what may not be locally useful may be of a high practical value in less favored parts in The Army's national field. There is, in fact, a saying, humorous, but true, that the Salvation Army can find good use both for people and things that no other body in creation would consider.

Remember the dates, and remember the cause to be furthered; be generous and you will nurse no regrets."

MUSIC AND DRAMA

Coming Attractions
Sept. 24—"Two Merry Tramps."
Sept. 26—"Too Proud to Beg."
Sept. 28—"Just Out of College."

"At The Unique"
At the Unique the public was entertained with a very pleasant program and the house was packed to the doors at each performance, which goes to show that this popular theatre is well patronized by the public. The headliner for the last half of this week is the "Salome Dance of the Seven Veils," a splendid masterpiece and beautifully colored. "Scenes of New York" show the emigrants arriving at New York City, also other leading views which are instructive to old and young. The "Merry Widower" is a comedy as is also "Disastrous Flirtation." The illustrated song "Swing Me Higher Obadiah" was sung by Kathleen Graham.

Bijou
Packed houses have been the results at this popular place of amusement the first half of the week and no doubt the last half will show the same result, as the Von Sisters are becoming great favorites with its patrons and with an entire change of act they are bound to pack the house at each performance. The pictures are of a high class order as are all pictures shown there. Don't miss this attraction if you wish to see something good.

A MONARCH Range

Actually Pays for itself in COLD CASH

BY reducing fuel bills 25 to 50 per cent.

BY saving one quarter of the time usually spent in the kitchen.

BY eternally doing away with nearly ALL of the disagreeable labor necessary to keep the ordinary range half way presentable.

Monarch MALLEABLE

The 'Stay Satisfactory' Range.

Understand us!

Time, fuel and labor represent real money and the Monarch Range will positively save enough of all three to pay back its own cost in a short time.

- ¶ We don't make this statement thoughtlessly, but with a desire to demonstrate it to every intending range buyer.
- ¶ Our years of experience as range dealers convinces us that the construction of the Monarch fully justifies this claim.

How the Monarch Malleable Range Saves

TIME

Much time is wasted with a common range waiting for hot fire in the morning or a baking heat during the day. The Monarch works PROMPTLY. A piping hot fire in five minutes after opening drafts is the regular thing.

LABOR

The hardest and most disagreeable tasks about the kitchen are blacking the range top and cleaning the crusted black bottoms of cooking utensils. All this is done away with by the Monarch polished top that don't require stove blacking.

FUEL

Ranges of common type WASTE fuel because outside air is drawn in through its open seams and joints. The Monarch utilizes ALL the heat in the coal or wood. It is built AIR-TIGHT by riveting its steel plates to Malleable iron frames—no stove bolts or putty used.

AID FROM THE STEEL TRUST

Bryan Says It Is Received by Republican Party.

IMMUNITY FROM PROSECUTION

Declares United States Steel Corporation Is Now Paying for It by Supporting the Republican Ticket—Nebraska Also Refers to the Alleged Corruption Fund in Delaware.

Harrington, Del., Sept. 18.—Specifically mentioning for the first time the United States Steel corporation and charging that its officials were supporting the Republican party in its campaign in return for the immunity from prosecution it received, William J. Bryan in a speech here hurled another bomb into the camp of the enemy. He also took occasion to refer to the corruption fund which it has been charged has been used in Delaware, and denounced those who would sell their votes.

In order to fulfill his engagement at this place at the hour agreed upon, the Democratic candidate traveled over 500 miles, the last sixty-five of which were in a special train which covered the distance in sixty-one minutes. Ten thousand people awaited his coming and his arrival was greeted with cheers.

Dr. Rowland G. Paynter, the Democratic nominee for governor of Delaware, introduced Mr. Bryan. Mr. Bryan at once launched into a bitter indictment of the Republican party for what he said was its failure to do justice to the people. He spoke of the tariff, campaign contributions, guaranty of bank deposits and the trusts, and declared that the interests of the farmers were on the side of the Democratic party.

Speaking of President Roosevelt's reference to swollen fortunes, Mr. Bryan declared that "you don't find that among the farmers, the laboring men, the merchants, the teachers, the preachers, the priests or among those who produce the nation's wealth. You find them in the hands of just a few people, and these are the people who have secured favors and privileges from the government, and when Mr. Roosevelt brings his indictment against those owners of swollen fortunes he brings an indictment against the Republican party, for it is the Republican party that has permitted the abuse of governmental power that has led to the accumulation of swollen fortunes."

Attacked Taft and His Platform.

Mr. Bryan attacked Mr. Taft and his platform generally, but with respect to the revision of the tariff he inquired:

"Why are they in such a hurry? They have had a chance all this time and when they promised immediate revision it meant they knew the patience of the public was strained to the point of breaking and they say, 'if you will just let us in once more we will immediately do what we ought to have done years ago.'"

He said there was little chance of the Republicans reducing the tariff and injuring the trusts, which had fattened under it. "The reason you cannot reduce it," he asserted, "is that the Republican party gathered its campaign funds from these men who purchased the right to get the money back from the pockets of the people. The Republican leaders expect to get their money this year like they have secured it heretofore, but they are not willing that they should know by publication before election where the money is coming from."

He inquired: "What answer does Mr. Taft make?"

"Mr. Taft," he said, "explained nothing. The steel trust today is supporting the Republican party and the Republican committee dare not say before election the amount of money it will collect from the officials of the steel trust to help it in its campaign." He said the Republican party had regulated the trusts only by being regulated by them. On the other hand, the Democratic party insisted that the principle of private monopoly was wrong and instead of creating trusts and then spending time trying to catch them, "we say prevent a trust from being organized."

President Roosevelt has not prosecuted the United States Steel corporation, he charged, and there was no hope that Mr. Taft would do so. It would not, he said, destroy business to make the trusts do business honestly.

You Can Test the Kidneys

Let the urine stand for twenty-four hours and if at the end of that time there are deposits of a brick dust variety or if the water becomes smoky and cloudy you may be sure the kidneys are deranged.

Another very marked symptom of kidney disease is pain in the small of the back.

The letter quoted below tells how these symptoms were overcome and kidney disease cured by Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills. Because of their direct and combined action on both liver and bowels these pills cure the most complicated cases.

Mr. W. H. Cook, R. F. D. No. 4, Lodi, Wis., writes:—"For many years I was troubled with kidney disease and several doctors told me my conditions was very serious but they could not cure me. Then I turned to Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills with excellent results. The sediment disappeared from the urine, the pains left the back and loins and I am feeling well."

Crookston, Minn., Sept. 18.—Agriculture was king in Crookston in the exercises attendant on the dedication of the new Red river valley agricultural high school building, just completed, on the site furnished by Chairman James J. Hill of the Great Northern.

The dedication of Stephens hall was held at the farm, which is located about a mile north of town. About 10,000 persons witnessed the ceremonies.

Mr. Hill was the chief guest, both of the city and the school authorities, and he emphasized the importance of agricultural training in his speech.

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for Pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but taken early—at the sneeze stage—they break, or head of these early colds. That's surely better. That's why they are called Preventics.

Preventics are little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing sickening. Nice for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel obliged to cure it, afterwards. To be sure, Preventics. Promptness may also save half your usual sickness. And don't forget your child. If there is feverishness, night or day. Herein probably lies Preventics' greatest efficiency. THE REPUBLICAN STANDARD BEARER

J. F. Jacobson, a Man of the People, Who Is Nominated for Governor.

HAS IMPROVABLE RECORD

Leader of the House During Six Legislative Terms—Author of Many Laws Beneficial to All.

J. F. Jacobson was born in Hjelmland, Norway, 1849, and emigrated to the United States with his parents in 1857. He came to Minnesota in 1871 and located on a claim in Lac Qui Parle county. Shortly afterwards he removed to the village of Lac Qui Parle and engaged in the farm implement business which he has continued at that place and at Madison ever since.

A born leader of men, he naturally drifted into public life and served three terms as county auditor. He was first elected to the legislature in 1888, and again in 1892. He has altogether served in six regular sessions of the house of representatives, and one special session. From the first he took a commanding position in the legislature, and during his last four sessions was the unquestioned floor leader on the Republican side.

J. F. Jacobson.

"I have come to the conclusion that a man who tries to do absolutely right can't go very far wrong."

—J. F. Jacobson in his speech of acceptance.

Mr. Jacobson has been prominently identified with grain and transportation legislation, always demanding justice for the shippers from the railroads. He has always vigorously supported every measure in the interests of the people, and uncompromisingly and relentlessly opposed all legislation in any way tinctured with graft. So marked has been this characteristic of his career that even his political opponents conceded it. In the Fairmount Sentinel, the paper owned and edited by Hon. Frank A. Day, Gov. J. A. Johnson's private secretary, this remarkable compliment was paid Mr. Jacobson:

"The people have confidence in 'Jake.' He is honest and unpurchasable. He was never controlled for a minute in his life by the 'interests,' and he refused to bend the pregnant knee that thrift may follow fawning."

Mr. Jacobson's home life is ideal. He is fond of social gatherings; delights in the companionship of relatives, friends and neighbors. He is strictly temperate in all his habits; possesses a keen sense of humor; is an interesting conversationalist; is noted for his kind and courteous treatment of all people he comes in contact with, both socially and in business. He is enamored of outdoor life and all athletic sports and is an expert hunter and fisherman, indulging in these pastimes as much as his business will permit.

Mr. Jacobson's integrity has never been questioned through his long years of public service. His record is without reproach, and he has always been found on the side of the people and opposed to all forms of corporate dictation. His leadership through so many legislative terms has fully demonstrated him to be a man of great natural ability.

WRIGHT MEETS WITH AN ACCIDENT

Aeroplane Wrecked and Lieutenant Selfridge Killed.

AVIATOR SERIOUSLY INJURED

Propeller Blade of Flying Machine Snaps Off and Hits Some Other Part of the Intricate Mechanism, Causing the Airship to Overturn in the Air and Fall to the Ground, Enveloping Occupants in the Debris.

Washington, Sept. 18.—After having drawn the attention of the world to his aeroplane flights at Fort Myer and having established new world's records for heavier-than-air flying machines, Orville Wright met with a tragical mishap while making a two-man flight. The aeroplane was accompanied by Lieutenant Thomas E. Selfridge of the signal corps of the army. Lieutenant Selfridge was fatally injured and died in less than three hours after the accident occurred. Mr. Wright was seriously injured, but is expected to recover.

While the machine was encircling the drill grounds a propeller blade snapped off and, hitting some other part of the intricate mechanism, caused it to overturn in the air and fall to the ground, enveloping the two occupants in the debris.

Soldiers and spectators ran across the field to where the aeroplane had fallen and assisted in lifting Mr. Wright and Lieutenant Selfridge from under the tangled mass of machinery, rods, wires and shreds of muslin. Mr. Wright was conscious and said:

"Oh, hurry and lift the motor." Lieutenant Selfridge was unconscious and had apparently struck the ground with great force. His head was covered with blood and he was choking when the soldiers extricated him from under the machine.

Never Regained Consciousness.

Dr. Watters, a New York physician, was one of the first to reach the spot and render first aid to the injured men. When their wounds had been bandaged Mr. Wright and Lieutenant Selfridge were taken to the Fort Myer hospital at the other end of the field. It was feared that Mr. Wright was suffering from internal injuries. He had lapsed into a state of semi-consciousness by the time he reached the hospital, while Lieutenant Selfridge did not regain consciousness at all. He was suffering from a fracture at the base of the skull and was in a critical condition.

After a hurried surgical examination it was announced that Mr. Wright was not dangerously injured. He is suffering from a fracture of his left thigh and several ribs on the right side are fractured. Both men received deep cuts about the head. Mr. Wright regained consciousness at the hospital and dictated a cablegram to his brother at Le Mans, France, and requested that the same message be sent to his sister and father at Dayton, O., assuring them that he was all right.

Although there have been but a handful of people at the aeronautical testing grounds at Fort Myer during the past few days, fully 2,000 had gathered to see the flight that ended so tragically. The aeroplane was taken to the northern end of the field to be placed on the starting track in readiness for a flight.

Everybody was ordered back from the machine and Mr. Wright turned to Lieutenant Selfridge and said:

"You might as well get in. We'll start in a couple of minutes."

Delighted at the Opportunity.

Mr. Wright announced several days ago that he would take Lieutenant Selfridge, who is secretary of the Aerial Experiment Association, and an aeroplane himself, in his next flight. The young officer was delighted to have an opportunity to fly in the aeroplane. He was to leave Saturday for St. Joseph, Mo., where he was to assist Lieutenant Foulers in operating the Baldwin airship at the coming army maneuvers.

After Mr. Wright told him to get in the machine, Lieutenant Selfridge took off his coat and hat and took his place in the extra seat next to that occupied by Mr. Wright, the latter starting the motor by means of a storage battery, his assistants, Taylor and Furness, turning the propellers to get them going. When the aeroplane was released it was noticed that it did not rise as quickly from the ground as on previous two-man flights. Lieutenant Selfridge weighed about 175 pounds, making the weight greater than the machine had ever carried before.

After gliding over the ground on its runners for thirty feet, the machine rose gradually and had gained a height of forty feet when it passed over the starting apparatus for the first time.

There was a six-mile wind and it was noticed that the machine did not run as smoothly as on its former flights, most of which were made in calm weather. The aeroplane, however, apparently had control of the aerial flyer, which rose to a height of seventy-five feet as it completed the second round of the field. This height was maintained on the third round.

While the machine was turning at the southern end of the field, several thousand feet from the spectators, someone shouted:

"What is that? Something fell."

Immediately all eyes were on the aeroplane and it was seen to turn over on its left side, and, pausing a moment, make a complete turn and then come swooping to the earth in a cloud of dust. No effort on the part of the aviator could possibly have averted the accident. Planes and rudders were absolutely incapable of righting the machine when it had turned in that manner.

Several officers who were standing around the starting apparatus ordered the mounted soldiers over to the wreck, but spectators, soldiers, officers and newspaper men were already running across the field. It was fully a minute before anyone reached the tangled mass.

The mounted soldiers formed a cordon around the wreckage, while others frenziedly endeavored to lift the heavy mass of machinery and wood that pinioned Wright and Selfridge to the ground. Lieutenant Selfridge's face was covered with blood and he was groaning and choking from the internal hemorrhage. Orville Wright lay by his side, his face as pale as the mass of white muslin overhead. He was conscious and asked that the machine be lifted off his leg.

Piece after piece of the wooden framework was broken off as a half dozen men endeavored to free the injured men. As soon as they could be extricated they were taken to one side and physicians from the crowd of spectators went to their aid. Their clothes were loosened and their wounds bandaged.

Attendants from the post hospital hastened across the field to the place where the machine lay and as soon as possible Mr. Wright and Lieutenant Selfridge were laid on stretchers and carried to the hospital, where Lieutenant Selfridge died.

WHY SHE MARRIED OSBORNE

Helen Maloney Feared She Would Have to Marry Titled Foreigner.

New York, Sept. 18.—Fear that she might be compelled by her parents to marry a titled foreigner whom she disliked was the reason which Helen Maloney, daughter of wealthy Martin Maloney of Philadelphia, declared impelled her to go through a marriage ceremony with Arthur Herbert Osborne, a young broker of this city. This information, given by Miss Maloney under oath when she was being examined by a referee in connection with her application to have the purported marriage annulled, was gleaned from papers in the case which were filed in court after a formal decree finally annulling the marriage was granted by Justice Gerard in the supreme court. Miss Maloney swore that the marriage never was regarded in a serious light either by herself or by Osborne; that she did not believe the contract a binding one, inasmuch as the contracting parties did not give their right names, ages or names of their parents to the justice of the peace who performed the ceremony and that the marriage never had been consummated.

Osborne, in his answer opposed the application for annulment, and also declared that no consummation of the marriage ever had taken place and that neither of the contracting parties ever intended that it should take place until after a marriage ceremony had been performed in a Roman Catholic church by a priest of that church.

Miss Maloney now is free, so far as the laws of the United States are concerned, to marry Samuel Clarkson, a young Englishman, with whom she eloped and went to England some time ago.

Zett Sentenced to Death.

Rockville, Conn., Sept. 18.—John Zett, who has been on trial here for the killing of his wife, Mary, and his granddaughter, Viola, last month, was found guilty of murder in the first degree. Judge Curtis imposed a sentence of death. Zett is to be hanged on Dec. 21, next.

Forest Fires in Pennsylvania.

Williamsport, Pa., Sept. 18.—Extensive forest fires are raging in this part of the state as a result of drought. It is impossible to estimate the losses as the fires are beyond control and spreading over hundreds of acres. A heavy pall of smoke covers the country for miles.

HEARST MAKES GRAVE CHARGES

Says Foraker Received Money From the Oil Trust.

READS ARCHBOLD'S LETTERS

Which Refer to Checks Aggregating Nearly Thirty Thousand Dollars Alleged to Have Been Sent to the Ohio Senator—Asserts That Democratic Party Killed the Fatted Calf for John D. Rockefeller.

Columbus, O., Sept. 18.—Thomas L. Hisgen, candidate of the Independence party for president, and William R. Hearst addressed a meeting at Memorial hall under the auspices of the local party. Mr. Hearst read letters which he said had been written by John D. Archbold of the Standard Oil company to Senator J. B. Foraker of Ohio, referring to legislation pending in congress and mentioning two enclosures of checks, one for $15,000 and another for $14,500. Mr. Hearst said:

"We claim that the Republican party has been for a long time the beneficiary of the trust co-operations and that the Democratic party has only waited an opportunity to share its sister's profitable infamy."

"We claim that the Democrats are today eagerly competing with the Republicans for trust favor."

"We claim that when Theodore Roosevelt whipped the Standard Oil company out of the Republican party the Democratic party welcomed that convicted criminal with open arms."

Killed Fatted Calf for Rockefeller.

We claim that the Democratic party killed for Mr. Rockefeller the fatted calf and that there is more rejoicing over this one sinner who has joined the Democratic cause than there is over the hundreds of thousands of honest, faithful citizens who constitute the Democratic masses.

"I am not here either with empty assertions, but with legal evidence and documentary proof."

"I am now going to read copies of letters written by Mr. John D. Archbold, chief agent of the Standard Oil company, an intimate personal representative of Mr. Rockefeller and Mr. Rogers. These letters have been given me by a gentleman who has intimate associations with this giant of corruption, the Standard Oil, but whose name I may not divulge lest he be subjected to the persecution of this monopoly."

Mr. Hearst then read the following letters, alleged to be from Mr. Archbold to Senator Foraker:

"My Dear Senator—I have your favor of last night with enclosure, which latter, with letter from Mr. Elliott, commenting on same, I beg to send you herewith. Perhaps it would be better to make a demonstration against the whole bill, but certainly the Ninth clause, to which Mr. Elliott refers, should be stricken out and the same is true of house bill No. 500, also introduced by Mr. Price, in relation to foreign corporations in which the same objectionable clause occurs."

Had Situation Well in Hand.

"Am glad to hear that you think that the situation is fairly well in hand."

The second letter is dated March 26, 1900, and is as follows:

"Dear Senator—In accordance with our understanding, I now beg to enclose you a certificate of deposit to your favor for $15,000. Kindly acknowledge receipt."

The third letter, dated Feb. 16, 1900, follows:

"My Dear Senator—Here is still another very objectionable bill. It is so outrageous as to be ridiculous, but its needs to be looked after, and I hope there will be no difficulty in killing it."

"Am anxious to hear from you as to the situation as a whole."

After reading the above letters, Mr. Hearst said:

"You will see, gentlemen, that these letters are not read at random, but they have a natural sequence. Here is the next."

He then read a letter dated New York, April 17, 1900, as follows:

Sent Certificate of Deposit.

"My Dear Senator—I enclose you certificate of deposit to your favor of $14,500. We are greatly at a loss in the matter, but I send this and will be glad to have a very frank talk with you when opportunity offers, if you so desire."

"I need scarcely again express our great gratification over the favorable outcome of affairs."

Mr. Hearst then read a letter purporting to have been written by Representative Sibley of Pennsylvania to Mr. Archbold, relating how Mr. Sibley told President Roosevelt that he should be careful how he offended the Standard Oil company and that he could not afford to depend merely upon the support of the people.

Two more letters, alleged to be from Mr. Archbold to Senator Foraker, were read by Mr. Hearst, the one relating to the re-election of judge of the Ohio supreme court, which was favored by Mr. Archbold and Mr. Rogers, and the other intimating that the candidacy on the Republican ticket for the attorney generalship of Ohio of an attorney who had fought the Oil trust ought not to be seriously considered.

ENTERTAINS HIS OLD NEIGHBORS

President Roosevelt Receives Them at His Home.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 18.—President Roosevelt proved himself the ideal host when he entertained the natives of this village at his summer home on Sagamore Hill. Each one of the 2,000 or more persons who went to see the president was made to feel that he or she had been especially honored. For each of his visitors the president had something of particular interest to that person to say. When the children finally managed to press through the crowd, the president beamed with pleasure and patted the youngsters on the back with an affectionate little tap as they filed by him.

"This is a fine little fellow," he would say, or "look at this little man; he should be a soldier," and so on, as the happy children passed along.

President Roosevelt held the reception so that he could renew acquaintance with his friends and neighbors, and a simple programme had been arranged and was carried out. Mrs. Roosevelt, Mrs. W. Emlen Roosevelt and Mrs. Reeves Merritt assisted the president in receiving the guests. Refreshments consisting of punch and ginger snaps were served on the lawn, and everyone was invited to make himself perfectly at home.

The surprise of the day came when President Roosevelt proved to his guests that he is a linguist. Forty members of the German Saengerbund had journeyed to Oyster Bay from Hicksville to sing for the president and his guests, but before the singing the president of the singing society delivered a short speech. He apologized because he had to make his speech in German and told President Roosevelt that he would have the speech translated for him. When the president of the singing society had concluded his speech, President Roosevelt arose and very cleverly translated all the German singer had said.

PARTY STRIFE ENDED.

New Hampshire Republicans Nominate Henry B. Quinby for Governor.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 18.—The political strife which for many months has split the Republican party in New Hampshire into three factions came to an end when Henry B. Quinby of Laconia was nominated for governor by the Republican state convention in session in this city. Two ballots were necessary for a choice and on the decisive one Quinby had a margin of only five votes.

On the first Quinby polled 372 votes, when 395 were necessary for nomination. Roscrans W. Pillsbury of Londonderry was a strong second, receiving 252 votes on the first ballot, and 246 on the second. Pillsbury's net loss on the second ballot was only six votes.

BROKE ALL RECORDS

More Grain Handled Over Second District in One Day than Ever Before in its History

The Second district of the Lake Superior Division of the Northern Pacific railroad made a new record in wheat hauling on Wednesday. There were 507 loads and 15 empties taken east in 24 hours, over the entire district. The big "2300" class engines are hauling 2700 tons or 56 car loads of 1200 bushels each. At Duluth and Superior 600 cars were switched Wednesday night, which also established a new record.

Coal Shortage Threatened

Unless people put in their coal supply immediately, there is liable to be a repetition of "coal shortage conditions," which prevailed during the winter of 1906-07. Only a quarter to half of the amount necessary for this winter's consumption has thus far moved. The responsibility for the light movement rests largely with the consumers, who have delayed ordering much later than usual. The docks at the head of the lakes are taxed with stored coal to the limit of their capacity. The cars necessary to move the coal are now available, but with the heavy grain movement, which will be fully under way within the next few weeks, most of these cars will be required for the grain service. There is just one way of insuring a sufficient coal supply, and that is to order it now for immediate delivery.—Duluth Herald.

ADMITTED BY GOMPERS.

That He Hastened Publication of Periodical to Avoid Injunction.

Washington, Sept. 18.—That he hastened the publication of the American Federationist for last January so as to get it into circulation before the injunction decree of the supreme court of the District of Columbia prohibiting the publication of the Bucks Stove and Range company of St. Louis in the "We Don't Patronize List" of that periodical became effective, was admitted by President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor. The admission was made in connection with the hearing before Examiner Harper, who is taking the testimony bearing on the contempt case against Messrs. Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison of the federation, which grows out of the alleged violation of the injunction decree. It was shown that the order had been issued Dec. 18, 1907, and that between that date and Dec. 23, when it became effective, the January issue of the organ of the federation had been gotten out and sent through the mails a few days in advance of the ordinary time.

REPUBLICAN RALLY TO OCCUR IN CINCINNATI

Cincinnati, Sept. 18.—Besides the excursion trains, filled with the personnel of the National League of Republican clubs, which are scheduled to arrive here for the day and night celebration next Tuesday, it was predicted at the Taft headquarters that the nearby towns of Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana would swell the expected throng with many marching clubs. There will be a day meeting in G. A. R. hall, and an evening rally in Music hall, at which Senator Foraker will preside, make a speech, and introduce

Judge Taft, the principal speaker of the evening. Those in charge of the local arrangements said the rally would eclipse anything of the kind previously attempted in the city. Judge Taft devoted the greater portion of the day at his private quarters working on the speeches he is scheduled to deliver through the Middle West and North. He announced that from this time until his departure this work would engross his attention to the exclusion of receiving callers or delegations. This announcement is taken to mean the practical abandonment of the front porch campaign which was contemplated when he came to the city. During the short time the candidate spent at his office in the Sinton hotel he was visited by a number of local politicians.

ERICKSON WAS THE LUCKY MAN
Present Chairman of County Commissioners Won Draw on Nomination Tie
WAS DECIDED THIS FORENOON
Ten Ballots, Eight of them Blanks, Were Placed in Box---Erickson's First Out

John A. Erickson will be the republican candidate for county commissioner from the Third district. Such was the decree of fate when the tie between that gentleman and Peter Peterson, was decided before the board of county canvassers this forenoon. Both candidates were present and while either could have demanded a special election because of the tie, both were agreed that there should be no additional expense placed on the taxpayers and each agreed to casting lots. After some discussion it was decided to place ten ballots, one containing the name of each candidate and the other eight blanks, in the jury box. This was done and the box closed and thoroughly shaken. H. D. Treglawney then drew out the ballots one by one and W. A. M. Johnston opened and examined them. The first two were blanks. The third bore the name of J. A. Erickson. Mr. Peterson, who sat beside Mr. Erickson, at once reached out and, grasping the hand of his successful competitor, congratulated him and expressed himself as satisfied with the fairness of the outcome. The two candidates then left the room and went down town together.

THAT BALL GROUND LEASE
Some Misapprehensions as to Who Stopped Sunday Base Ball on McKay Grounds Last Summer

The campaign for membership of the Y. M. C. A. has developed the fact there are some who are laboring under a misapprehension of the facts concerning the stopping of Sunday base ball on the McKay grounds last summer. Some of the devotees of Sunday sport have charged that but for the leasing of the grounds by the Y. M. C. A. Sunday base ball would have been permitted there. It is but fair to that organization that the exact facts be known. Before the grounds were leased there had been complaints lodged by the residents of the neighborhood against Sunday playing and Chief of Police McGivern stopped one Sunday game and notified the players that no more games would be allowed there at any time. A resident of that block also sought the agent of the property and wanted to rent a lot across the center of the grounds to pile wood on in order to stop all games. The Y. M. C. A. had already commenced the negotiations for the lease and were told by the agent that unless they would lease it and undertake the policing of the grounds during games, and would prohibit Sunday ball, the grounds would be leased to the other party and all games there stopped. The association then leased the grounds and went to the expense of providing special officers during all games. The lease, when made out expressly prohibited Sunday base ball and the association could not have permitted the use of the grounds had it so desired, which would have been contrary to the constitution of the association. The association, did, however permit the free use of the grounds on week days, with the single exception of the Fourth of July, when they declined to permit a game during the time the exercises were being held under the charge of the Commercial club. The officers refused this permission on the grounds that it would not be courteous to invite a speaker, singers, etc., and then countenance a ball game during the exercises.

The association has been friendly to all clean and manly sport and its officers are not opposing or putting obstacles in the way of any organization in the city, nor will they do so.

HE KNEW THE STATIONS
Lumberjack in Minneapolis Street Car was Familiar with Stations on Minnesota & International

At noon yesterday in a Hennepin avenue street car, coatless, rough-trousered and shod, in sole-caked leather, Nels Swanson, a Beltrami lumberjack, went to sleep.

Nels had happy dreams as his face showed. On his shirt front he wore a bouquet of pansies; his overalls were rolled up to the tops of his laced boots. The conductor nudged him for his fare, "All aboard!" mumbled the giant from the north woods. "Brainerd, Pequot, Hackensack, Walker, Bemidji, Turtle River and Tenstrike! All aboard!"

Oblivious to the details of the present Nels pulled a handful of the needful from his pocket and let the conductor take what he wanted.

"All aboard!" said the conductor.

"All aboard!" echoed Nels. — Minneapolis Tribune.

KLING AND BROWN
The Final Count Gives the Legislative Nominations to the Two Little Falls Gentlemen

While the official count has not been finished it is so far completed that the final result cannot be changed. The figures in the following table contains the entire count of Crow Wing county excepting Little Pine precinct, where less than a dozen votes are cast. The Morrison county figures are taken from the official table and are practically the exact figures. The result shows that E. A. Kling and L. D. Brown have received the nominations:

	MORRISON	CROW WING	TOTAL
L. W. Bouck.....	328	580	908
N. M. Young.....	212	502	714
E. A. Kling.....	588	553	1141
L. D. Brown.....	356	693	1049
C. W. Bouck.....	342	491	833

Millions of bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar have been sold without any person ever having experienced any other than beneficial results from its use for coughs, colds and lung troubles. This is because the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package contains no opiates or other harmful drugs. Guard your health by refusing any but the genuine. H. P. Dunn. mwf

The Cass County Result
The Cass county election returns at Walker, with six small precincts to hear from, gives A. A. Oliver a majority of six over Naustvold for clerk of the court, and Funk a majority of two over Silas Scribner for county attorney, and the final count will have to be made to decide the matter. The following have received the nomination which the balance of the returns cannot change: I. P. Byhre, auditor; W. T. McKeown, treasurer; Robert DeLury, sheriff; Bert Jamieson, judge of probate; J. W. Curo, surveyor; E. E. Holman, coroner; H. H. Hall, superintendent of schools; W. B. Jones, county commissioner.

The returns at Walker show that P. H. McGarry has been nominated for the legislature, but that the vote is close between Hamilton and Ferguson, with the probability that Hamilton, of Aitkin, has been defeated.

When Trifles become Troubles
If anyone suspects that their kidneys are deranged they should take Foley's Kidney remedy at once and not risk Bright's disease or diabetes. Delay gives the disease a firmer foothold and you should not delay taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. H. P. Dunn. mwf

Appreciation
TO THE PEOPLE OF CROW WING COUNTY:
One never knows in what estimation his work and personality are held until some occasion like the recent primary election gives an opportunity for the expression of public opinion. I am highly pleased at the endorsement given me and extend to the people my sincere thanks for this expression of their approval of my services. Especially do I value the votes and work of the ladies because they are always most interested in every thing that is for the advancement of the already high state of education and culture of the people of this county.

J. A. WILSON.

A Card of Thanks
I wish, at this time, to give expression to my heartfelt thanks for the very satisfactory vote given me at the primaries for county attorney. To one and all I can only say—thank you. If I am elected in November, I shall take the office free from any promise, except to do right, for I have no other promise. It will be my determination to do the work of the office as near right as I know how to do it, and I only ask that all who may have occasion to transact business with the office to feel perfectly free to come and see me. Again, I sincerely thank the people of Crow Wing county.

SALVATION ARMY ASKS CONTRIBUTIONS
Will Hold Annual Harvest Festival in All Towns September 26th to 29th
ASK AID OF THE CHARITABLE
Army Sends out Circular Setting Forth its Doings, Aims and Necessities

Local officers of the Salvation Army have requested THE DISPATCH to give publicity to the appeal of the army for contributions for its annual Harvest Festival, which takes place simultaneously in all towns where the army is represented. They ask contributions of fruit, flowers, canned goods, vegetables, fish, meat, chickens, live stock, corn, flour, wheat, oatmeal, condensed milk, bread, crackers, cheese, tea, coffee, cocoa, books, pictures, jewelry, shoes, coal, wood, lumber, shingles, chairs, sheets, blankets, cutlery, tools, furniture, new or old.

A circular sent out from headquarters reads as follows:

"Have you ever heard of a poor, troubled, sorrowful, perplexed, hopeless man or woman appealing fruitlessly to The Salvation Army? Do you know that something like 3,000,000 just such people are upheld by this wonderful organization? Do you know that in twenty-three different homes fallen women are each year restored by the score to honor and a life of useful purity? Do you know that in three different havens little children, all the way from nursing babes to sturdy boys and girls are being succored? Do you know that scattered over the country are seventy-eight Shelters in which nightly some 9,000 homeless, often hopeless, men or women are cared for? Do you know that these institutions represent but a mere fraction of the charitable work successfully carried on by The Salvation Army in the United States?

"How is this enormous expense to be met? Fools and ignorant know-alls will perhaps explain to you that The Army is in and of itself a sort of bonanza class-corporation, and of a truth it would needs be if out of its own resources it carried on the stupendous undertakings it dares. But the intelligent man or woman of today knows too well The Salvation Army under too many conditions, and through too many seasons to listen to such folly.

The army just now is making a special effort to raise funds, and they are asking for not only cash but articles that can be converted into cash.

"No religious organization of history has depended more fully upon the good offices and charitable warmth of the public than The Salvation Army. Happily we are not an ungrateful people, nor a people slow to realize or appreciate great deeds. That is why we have a right to feel a sincere interest in everything The Salvation Army undertakes, and that is why we all now take an interest in The Army's approaching annual Harvest Festival, September 26 to 29.

"Anything and everything of any actual utility may be given as an offering at this Festival, for what may not be locally useful may be of a high practical value in less favored parts in The Army's national field. There is, in fact, a saying, humorous, but true, that the Salvation Army can find good use both for people and things that no other body in creation would consider.

Remember the dates, and remember the cause to be furthered; be generous and you will nurse no regrets."

MUSIC AND DRAMA
Coming Attractions
Sept. 24—"Two Merry Tramps."
Sept. 26—"Too Proud to Beg."
Sept. 28—"Just Out of College."

"At The Unique"
At the Unique the public was entertained with a very pleasant program and the house was packed to the doors at each performance, which goes to show that this popular theatre is well patronized by the public. The headliner for the last half of this week is the "Salome Dance of the Seven Veils," a splendid masterpiece and beautifully colored. "Scenes of New York" show the emigrants arriving at New York City, also other leading views which are instructive to old and young. The "Merry Widower" is a comedy as is also "Disastrous Flirtation." The illustrated song "Swing Me Higher Obadiah" was sung by Kathleen Graham.

Bijou
Packed houses have been the results at this popular place of amusement the first half of the week and no doubt the last half will show the same result, as the Von Sisters are becoming great favorites with its patrons and with an entire change of act they are bound to pack the house at each performance. The pictures are of a high class order as are all pictures shown there. Don't miss this attraction if you wish to see something good.

A MONARCH Range

Actually Pays for itself in COLD CASH

BY reducing fuel bills 25 to 50 per cent.;

BY saving one quarter of the time usually spent in the kitchen.;

BY eternally doing away with nearly ALL of the disagreeable labor necessary to keep the ordinary range half way presentable.

Understand us!

Time, fuel and labor represent real money and the Monarch Range will positively save enough of all three to pay back its own cost in a short time.

¶ We don't make this statement thoughtlessly, but with a desire to demonstrate it to every intending range buyer.

¶ Our years of experience as range dealers convinces us that the construction of the Monarch fully justifies this claim.

How the Monarch Malleable Range Saves

TIME
Much time is wasted with a common range waiting for hot fire in the morning or a baking heat during the day. The Monarch works PROMPTLY. A piping hot fire in five minutes after opening drafts is the regular thing.

LABOR
The hardest and most disagreeable tasks about the kitchen are blacking the range top and cleaning the crusted black bottoms of cooking utensils. All this is done away with by the Monarch polished top that don't require stove blacking.

FUEL
Ranges of common type WASTE fuel because outside air is drawn in through its open seams and joints. The Monarch utilizes ALL the heat in the coal or wood. It is built AIR-TIGHT by riveting its steel plates to Malleable iron frames—no stove bolts or putty used.
